

GWIMPS.

It Is Claimed, Are Getting Their Pick of the Plums.

The Old Line Democrats in Consequence Are Furious.

James Brown, factoring after the "Republican Herald," a British agent, has been ordered by the secretary of war to be placed in the line of duty. Other interesting gossip from Washington.

CINCINNATI, Dec. 22.—A special dispatch to the Times-Star says: Maj. James O'Connell, quartermaster, has been ordered by the secretary of war to be placed in the line of duty. Other interesting gossip from Washington.

The widely published report in New York that ex-Senator Thomas C. Platt had snubbed ex-President Harrison at a prominent hotel on Monday morning was untrue. A gentleman who was present at the time the alleged snub was given, relates the scene in these words: "Mr. Platt at the time that ex-President Harrison entered the hotel was sitting on one of the lounges engaged in conversation with ex-Senator Coggeshall. His face was half turned toward the hall, so that he could not have seen anyone entering the hotel. It is true that he did not speak, and for the very reason that they did not see each other. Every body knows that the two prominent republican statesmen are not bosom friends, and that Mr. Platt, who lives at the Fifth Avenue hotel, did not take the trouble to call on the ex-president during the latter's stay in the city. But the story that Mr. Platt snubbed the president and deliberately snubbed him was strongly denied by the ex-senator himself in these words: "The story is false. I have never seen Mr. Harrison evidently did not see me, and there was no opportunity for me to speak to him. Had there been I would have gladly availed myself of the opportunity. There is a raging-howl from the old line democrats over the appointment of Wayne McVagh to the Roman Catholic bishopric and his prompt confirmation by the senate. It is said the president intends promptly to reward other mugs.

The hybrid are getting out of the good office of the executive, and although it is irksome to the democrats in the senate they swallow their medicine and promptly confirm the president's choice. The controller of the currency has declared a dividend of twenty-five per cent for the creditors of the Indianapolis National bank, payable January 1.

Indiana democrats here anticipate the early nomination of John Johnson to be nominated at Bedford, and Ex-Mayor Zollinger, of Fort Wayne, to be state pension agent.

WHEEL TRUST. Twenty Concerns Trying to Form a Big Comb. Chicago, Dec. 22.—Representatives of the 20 wagon wheel manufacturers in the west met at the auditorium and laid plans for forming a wheel trust. The stumbling block in their way was the fact that most of the factories had contracts running for several months at existing prices. The presidents of the trusts, however, were not known men in the state. For many years he practiced law, but recently had invested largely in real estate at Nashville and Louisville. Mr. Paul, who was the eldest son of the late Joseph R. Underwood and was 75 years of age.

HEROES OF 1812. PARIS, Ky., Dec. 22.—Frederic Simpson, a soldier of the war of 1812, died in this city Thursday morning. He was born January 3, 1790, and served in the Ohio militia during the war of 1812. There are now living only two soldiers of the war of 1812.

FORGER IN JAIL. CLARKSVILLE, Tenn., Dec. 22.—Thomas Wilcox, a young Kentuckian, has been jailed here for forgery. He was endeavoring to cash a check drawn on the bank of Lexington, Ky., payable to Thomas Smith, and signed by Henry Lewis.

LATEST FROM HAWAII.

An Ultimatum that Force Will Be Used to Resist an Attack. SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 22.—The Mariposa, from Honolulu, via Honolulu, arrived Thursday. She reports that the United States cutter Corwin had arrived at Honolulu with dispatches to Minister Willes, the contents of which have not yet been disclosed. The general belief was that he had been instructed to make every effort to restore the queen short of using force. It also reported that the provisional government had prepared an ultimatum declaring its intention to resist with force all attempts to overthrow it.

A message brought by the Mariposa, written the morning that ship sailed, said that the political situation remains without change since the 9th. The publication there on that day of the substance of the reply previously reported of Minister Willes to President Dole's request for some explanation of Secretary Gresham's letter, gave rise to much speculation as to what his answer might be.

The minister's obvious avoidance of any expression tending toward a disavowal of the extreme hostilities intended against the queen, and the refusal of the government an unfavorable impression and enhances the hopes of the royalists.

The impression is confirmed by the statement of the reply that the president will make known his purpose as soon as he receives the answer recently submitted to him. This language seems to be that of one clothed with authority over this government and is expected to exercise in some arbitrary and forcible manner. Such is the impression conveyed to men of all political parties.

The outbreak of alarm prevailing a fortnight ago is in great part quieted by the attitude of the government and the citizens, and by strong American sympathy with the queen's cause.

An address of sympathy has been an expression of interest for the Hawaiian people, and has been likely to invite if they are disappointed in President Cleveland. Many circumstances are expected to exercise in some arbitrary and forcible manner. Such is the impression conveyed to men of all political parties.

FROM BRAZIL.

American Sailors Leave Plecto's Cruiser.

Sixty Men Unwilling to Continue in Service on the Nietheroy.

A Mixed Crew Will Keep on the Brazilian War Vessel, and Will Not Be Thoroughly American as the Officers Had Desired.

PERNAMBUCO, Dec. 22.—Lieut. John J. Conway, third watch officer on the Nietheroy, who was commander of the forward gun-battery of this cruiser, accompanied by sixty seamen of the Nietheroy, sailed for New York on Saturday on board the British steamer Herchel, which was chartered from Rio de Janeiro for New York on November 16. The remainder of the Nietheroy's crew, about one hundred in all, have signed suitable papers drawn up as near to their desires and requests as possible.

The places of the Americans will be filled by Brazilians, and others who have been secured, in some way or other, at the other ports, and so the composition of the Nietheroy, which will not be a thoroughly American as the officers desired.

The report which has been widely circulated to the effect that a mutiny occurred on board the Brazilian cruiser Nietheroy is untrue. But, by some means, the crew, which would include considerable laxity of discipline on board the Brazilian vessel, the crew of the Nietheroy managed to secure a change of command from the captain, which has been crowding around the dynamite ever since his arrival here, and the result was a drunken row. A dozen sailors were placed in irons and that was the end of it.

Nobody here who is well informed enough to pronounce an opinion on the subject, believes that the restoration of a monarchy is contemplated, much less possible, and it may safely be said that there is very much more of conspiracy than of truth in the monarchy, which has been crowding around the dynamite ever since his arrival here, and the result was a drunken row. A dozen sailors were placed in irons and that was the end of it.

Reports circulated to the effect that the mutiny of the former fleet is sympathy with the insurgents possibly originated in the fact that naval officers all the world over, have considerable sympathy for the cause of the monarchists, while in New York, made many friends, but everybody admits that the U. S. government could not permit restoration by force of arms, of the monarchy, and the United States in this matter is looked upon as being paramount, and as effectually settling any rumors which might be circulated by monarchists or others regarding an attempt to restore the monarchy. The United States is looked upon as being paramount, and as effectually settling any rumors which might be circulated by monarchists or others regarding an attempt to restore the monarchy.

Label Law Will Be Enforced. COLUMBUS, O., Dec. 22.—Nate Labor Commissioner Lewis appeared before the state prison managers again, and informed them that none of the prison contractors had observed the label law. He was met with the same excuses as before, and was told that the label law was not enforced. They have the prison inmates, and they have the label law. Work for Half of Colorado's Idle. DENVER, Colo., Dec. 22.—The Colorado Fuel and Iron Co. will be ready to start their bessemer steel works on the contract of the Union Pacific for 50,000 tons of steel rails on March 1. The work on this contract will last several months, and will employ 3,500 men, or about one-half of the unemployed in the state.

His Share Will Be Settled. YAKIMA, Wash., Dec. 22.—A shortage was discovered in the accounts of Lewis Prince, treasurer of the Youngtown Typographical union. Prince effected a settlement by paying a portion of his earnings each week until the full amount is paid.
